Use of this score report requires a complete understanding of the Social Emotional Assets and Resilience Scales™ (SEARS) scales and its interpretation, applications, and limitations as presented in the SEARS Professional Manual. This report contains raw and standardized scores from the SEARS Teacher (SEARS-T) Rating Form. Users should refer to the SEARS Professional Manual for procedures and guidelines for the interpretation of this report. Users also should refer to the Professional Manual for information about the psychometric characteristics of the SEARS.

This report should be used as only one source of information about the individual being evaluated. In this respect, no decisions should be based solely on the information contained in this report. The raw and standardized scores contained in this report should be integrated with other sources of information when making decisions about this individual.

This report is confidential and is intended for use by qualified professionals who have sufficient knowledge of psychometric testing and of the SEARS. This report should not be released to the respondent or to any individuals who are not qualified to interpret the results.

SEARS-T Scale Overview

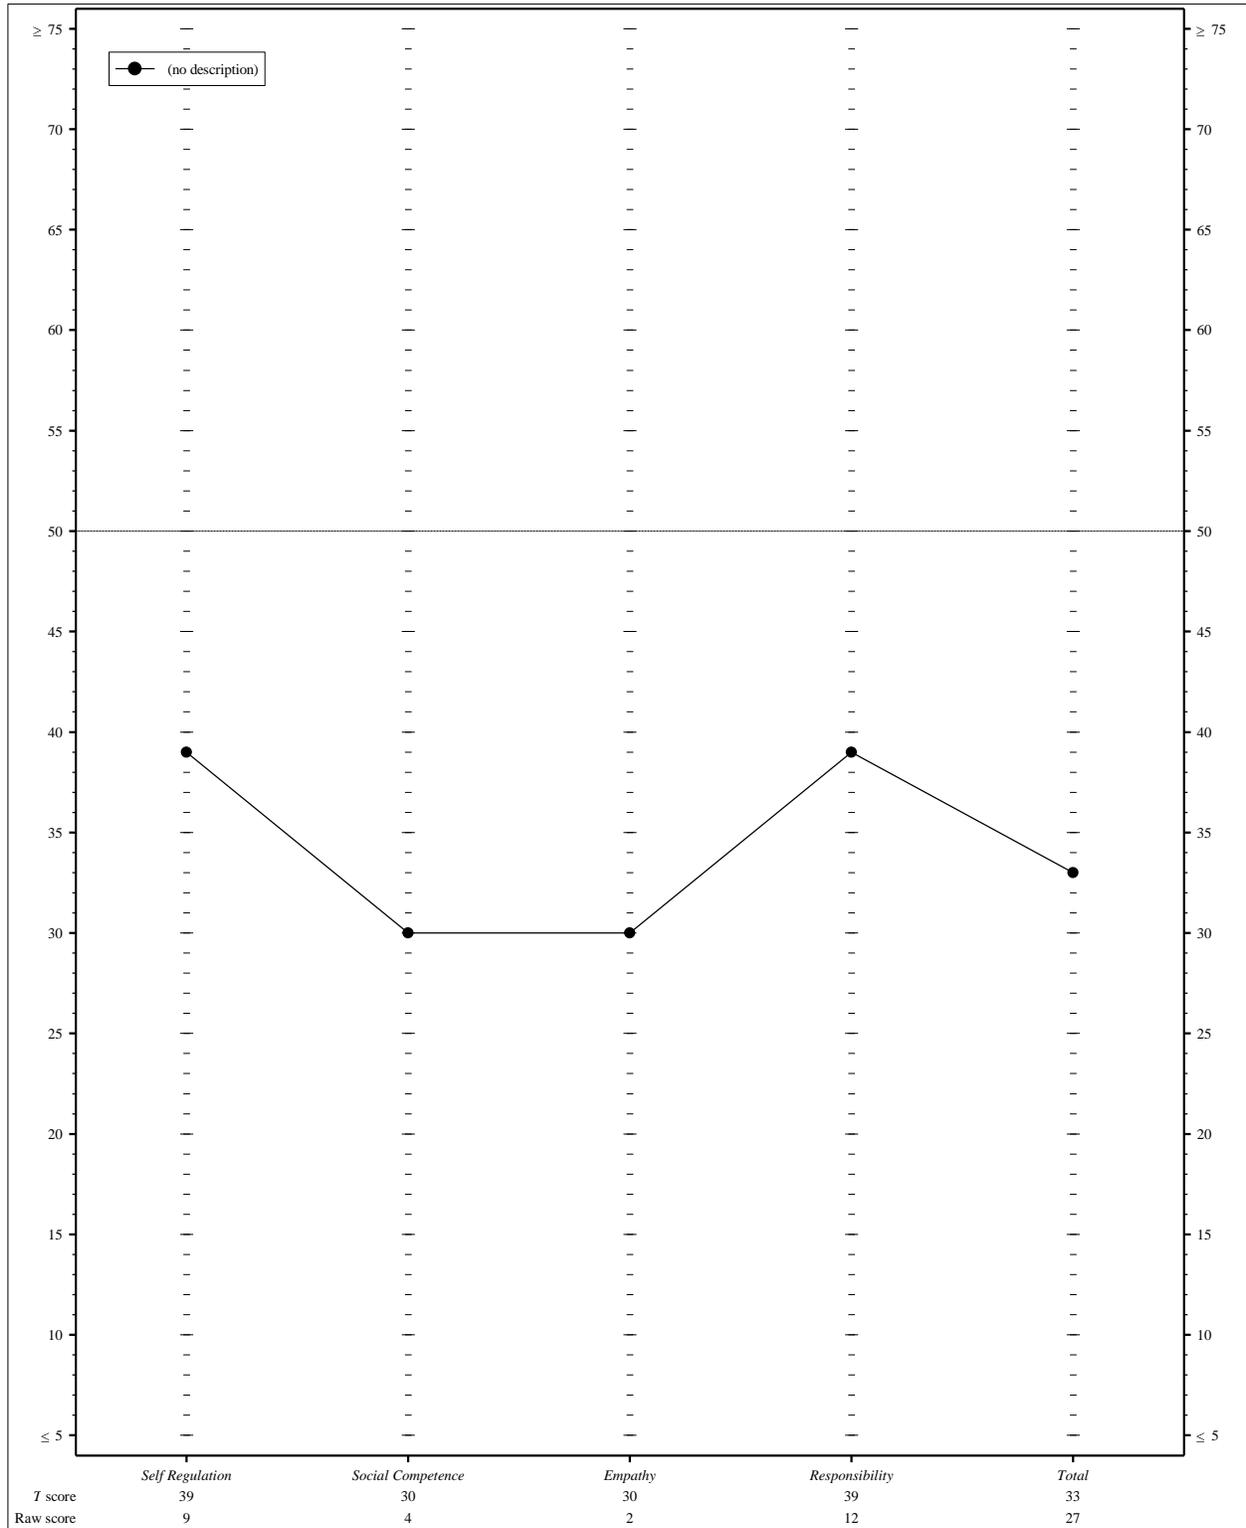

The SEARS-T is a strength-based, multidimensional measure of a student's social strengths and resilience. The SEARS-T consists of 41 items tapping a teacher's perceptions of self-regulation, responsibility, social competence, and empathy. The SEARS-T has the following 4 scales:

- The Self-Regulation (SR) scale measures self-awareness, meta-cognition, intrapersonal insight, self-management, and direction.
- The Social Competence (SC) scale measures the ability to maintain friendships with peers, engage in effective verbal communication, and feel comfortable around groups of peers.
- The Empathy (E) scale measures the ability to empathize with others' situations and feelings.
- The Responsibility (R) scale measures the ability to accept responsibility, behave conscientiously, and think before acting.
